

CTP 3006

LOOK ONCE LOOK AGAIN

IN THE

PARK

LOOK ONCE LOOK AGAIN

SCIENCE SERIES

by David M. Schwartz photographs by Dwight Kuhn

LOOK ONCE

If you were a worm, these would look like giant blades, reaching high into the sky.

LOOK AGAIN

If no one cuts these blades of grass, they will grow high. Little flowers will appear. But at the park, someone mows the grass, and it becomes a bright green lawn instead.

LOOK ONCE

A close-up photograph of a horse's mouth, showing several large, yellowish, cylindrical teeth. The teeth are arranged in a row, with some showing a distinct longitudinal groove. The background is dark and out of focus, highlighting the texture and color of the teeth.

These teeth are sharp and strong, but they aren't made to bite you—unless you're a nut!