LOOK ONCE

If you had feet like these,
you could paddle
across the pond.

LOOK AGAIN

Ducks use their webbed feet like paddles to move through water. A swimming duck may look like it is floating along. But under the water, its webbed feet are paddling back and forth. Some ducks also use their feet to help them dive under water.

LOOK ONCE

This creepie-crawlie crawls along munching leaves.
Some day it will fly off to find flowers.
