Homes Around the World

MAX MOORE

Most of us live in houses or apartment buildings.

They are usually made of bricks or concrete.

But not all homes in the world are like this.

Some people live in unusual homes.

Would you like to live high above the ground?

Some people who live in forests and jungles build treehouses.

They use bamboo, vines, and wood from the forest to make their homes.

Come see the different kinds of homes people live in,
from tents to treehouses.
