

JANE GOODALL

A Chimp's Best Friend

by Daniel Shepard

A photograph of Jane Goodall, an elderly woman with short, wavy white hair, wearing a blue and white plaid shirt. She is leaning forward and kissing a young chimpanzee on the forehead. The chimpanzee has dark fur and a lighter face, looking up at her. The background is a lush green jungle with large leaves and a chain-link fence.

Jane Goodall grew up in England.
She always loved animals.
Once her father gave her a special gift.
It was a toy chimpanzee.

Jane had a toy chimpanzee named Jubilee.

Jane always wanted to visit Africa.
She wanted to see the animals there.
When Jane was 23, a friend invited her to Africa.
She would finally be able to live her dream!

