

Winking, blinking, zigging and wagging

BRIAN MOSES

Eyes are for looking,
seeing, and staring.

Eyes are for watching,
gazing, and glaring.

Eyes are for squinting, winking,
and blinking.

Eyes are for prying, spying,
and spotting.

Eyes are for
peeking, peeping,
and sleeping ... zzzzzz!

Whose eyes are these?

He sleeps by day
and hunts by night.
His loud “hoo hoo”
gives mice a fright.

Can you flap your ears or wiggle them? Can you see in the dark or in every direction? Read about animals that can.
